Blazing Cross Lights Klan's Raid on Florida Night Club

Miami, Fla., Nov. 16—While the blazing cross of the Ku Klux Klan cast a weird light over the scene, approximately 150 white-robed men and women swooped down on the La Paloma Night Club here at midnight, routed patrons, waiters and bartenders, smashed the furnishings and then vanished into the night after warning the club must not be reopened.

One waiter, whose name could not be learned, was reported by bystanders to have been severely beaten when he refused to obey the order to vacate the club.

Club Wrecked

After wrecking the club, the white-robed figures ransacked a bungalow nearby in search of Al Youst, proprietor. Failing to locate Youst, the raiders instructed a waiter to tell him the club must not be reopened.

The La Paloma Night Club has been the center of controversy for some time. It is located only a few doors from a church, and residents of the sparsely settled section, which is just inside the city limits, have been bitterly antagonistic to the operation of the club, but efforts to have it closed through legal moves have been unsuccessful.

Authorities Silent

Authorities today declared they have not received a formal complaint of the raid and will not start an investigation until Youst makes a report of the affair.

Charges of theft were voiced today by Youst as he surveyed the wreckage of his night club. A gold watch and $350 in cash, which were in the bungalow last night were missing this morning, he charged.

The raid on the night club was preceded by a huge open air Ku Klux Klan initiation ceremony in Morre Park, city-owned, from which the public was barred.

Camp To Be Made President Central Texas Firemen

A delegation of Cameron Firemen will go to Bartlett on Thursday for an all day meeting of the Central Texas Retail Firemen's Association. At this meeting Emory B. Camp will be inaugurated president of the Central Texas Association.

During the day hose races and pump races will be held. At seven in the evening a business session and banquet will be held. At that time the inaugural ceremonies will be held.

Machine Shop Buys Site

A business development of considerable interest here was the recent purchase by the Cameron Machine Shop of a quarter block of business property south of the Wm. P. Carey Lumber Company.

The property is on the southeast corner of the block with east and south front. No announcement has been made by the Michalka Bros. who own the machine shop here, but it was believed the firm plans at some future date to improve the block.

John Deere tractors and Deere farm implements are sold by the firm. The shop also builds truck bodies for bottling plants. The business is one of the leading industries of Cameron and the purchase of this site indicates progress for the city.

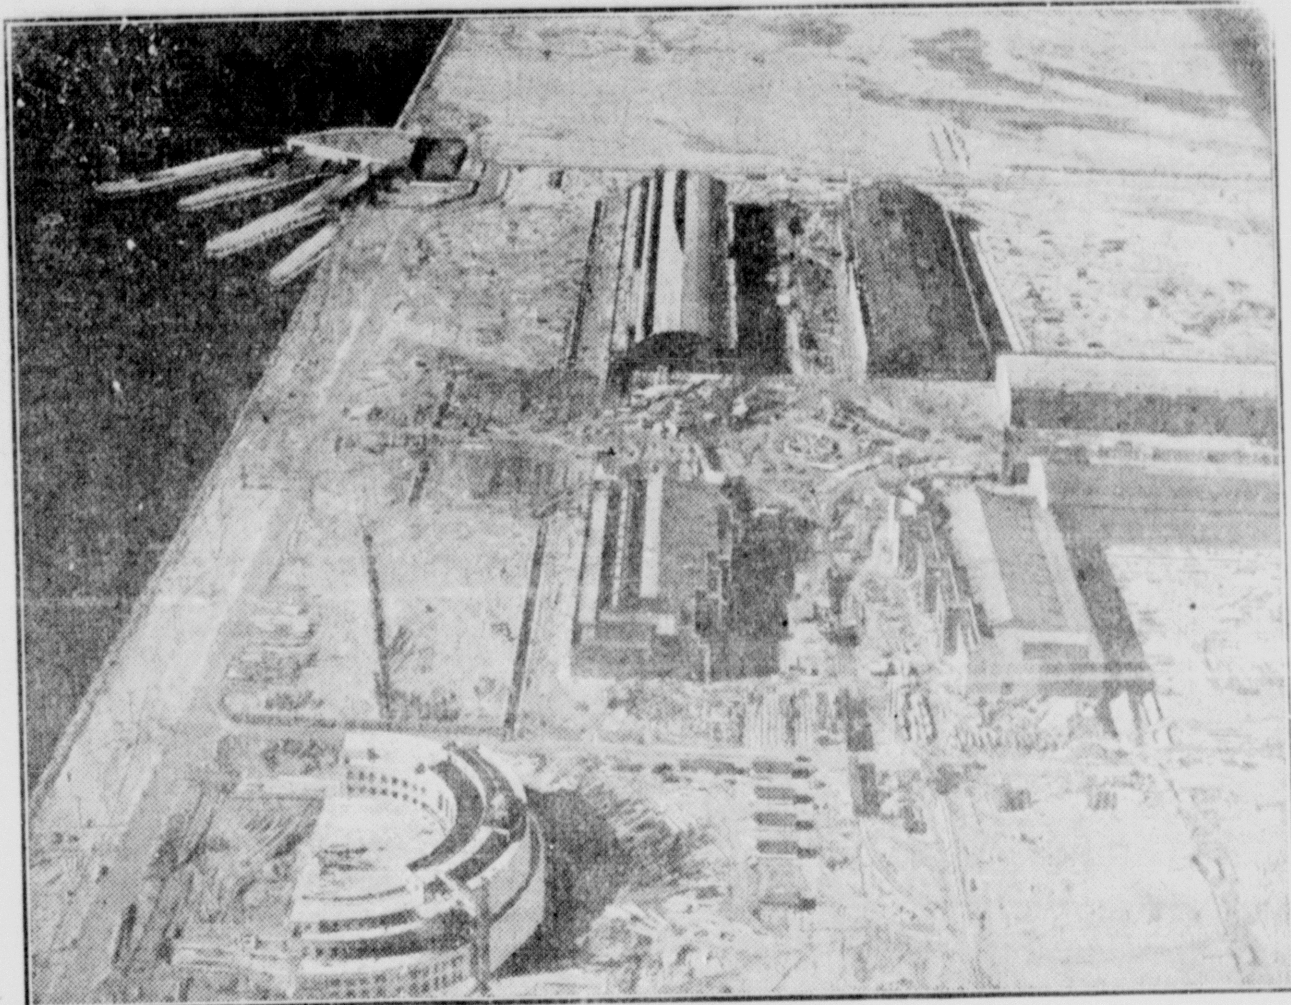

The property is valuable for the business engaged in by the Cameron Machine Shop and is large enough to afford display space for their important and hardware business.

4 Convictions In Federal Court From Cases Originating In Milam County Sheriff Reports

Sheriff Kennedy reported late Wednesday that four convictions resulted from evidence submitted in federal court in 4 cases filed from Milam county, a perfect per centage for the office of the sheriff.

Some time ago Sheriff Kennedy and Constable Bailey arrested Mike Treadwell and Jim Kimble of Rogers who were operating a high liquor still on a negro woman's farm near Cameron. Treadwell entered a plea of guilt, exonerating Kimble. He was given a jail sentence.

Victor Lucio was given 3 months in jail for theft of a package submitted for mailing by the Schiller Pharmacy here. He entered a plea of guilt. Sam Harbor arrested near Jones Prairie and charged with possessing liquor for sale, was given a jail sentence on plea of guilt.

Mrs. Claud Robinson charged with using the mails to defraud, must serve 60 days in jail upon plea of guilty. She was also given a 13 months suspended sentence and under parole after she has served the 60 days. If she violates the parole she must serve 18 months.

The evidence in the case, according to Sheriff Kennedy, was that Mrs. Robinson forged checks and sent them through the mail to mail order houses ordering merchandise.

Joan Crawford in "Bride Wore Red" Features Sunday Show at Cameron

Once again the screen improves on an outstanding stage hit. "The Bride Wore Red," which comes to the Cameron Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, November 21 and 22, was Ferenc Molnar's "The Girl from Trieste."

Remembered, of course, as a rich human experience depicted on the stage, the story has gained in celluloid. Joan Crawford unquestionably

Burlington Will Celebrate Thanksgiving

Charges Are Filed Following Attack On Hearne Man

Charges of assault with intent to murder were filed in Justice Brasher's court late Wednesday by Mrs. A. R. Channell of Hearne against Ben Thweatt of Maysfield.

The charges grew out of an attack by Thweatt shortly after noon upon her husband A. R. Channell near the First National Bank building. Channell said that he lived in Hearne and had driven the car in which Mrs. Harmon Thweatt and her sister Mrs. Channell came to Cameron Wednesday. Mrs. Thweatt and Mrs. Channell are sisters.

Mrs. Thweatt came to Cameron, said Channell, to talk with the law firm of Wallace & Wallace about the estate of Harmon Thweatt, who died here on November 6th.

Mrs. Thweatt was made administrator of the estate of the deceased war veteran. According to information here they were married in October in Oklahoma. Mrs. Thweatt was the former Miss Mary McCarthy of Jones Prairie.

Channell's wounds were dressed in the office of Dr. W. R. Newton, Jr. He was severely beaten about the head and face.

Justice Brasher issued a warrant and gave it to Sheriff Kennedy shortly after the charges were filed.

COUNCIL JOINS IN FINANCING FIRST ANNUAL COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE FOR CAMERON

The City of Cameron made a substantial donation to insure the success of Cameron's first Community Christmas Tree, on Tuesday night at the beginning of its session.

The appropriation was made on a motion by Alderman Sam McDermott and a second by Roy Griffith, alderman, after it had been cheerfully submitted by Mayor Chas. C. Smith. Voting for the motion also were Aldermen E. O. Schiller and Bob Terry. Alderman Horstmann was absent from the meeting.

Emory B. Camp, chairman, and J. B. White for the committee on publicity and entertainment from the Chamber of Commerce, were present for the meeting of the council. Mr. Camp made the plea for the donation.

Secretary Dan Tyson said Wednesday that check for the subscription had been placed in the hands of Secretary Paden of the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday morning.

Citizens generally Wednesday were grateful to Mayor Smith and the Council for their consideration of the plans to have a 20 day lighted Xmas (Turn to page 7)

Champions Do Not Repeat; Saw Tooth Tigers of Belton Mangle Yoemen to Win

The tradition that Champions do not repeat still prevails.

Belton Tigers took the championship of the district Friday night when they defeated the Yoemen in a burst of power late in the third quarter taking the ball on successive downs for 60 yards and the only touchdown of the game.

The Yoemen never threatened the Tiger goal and the only thing that can be said in their favor is the defense they gave. Belton surprised some 500 spectators by a tame exhibition. The great scoring threat did not materialize in this game. The Yoemen, underdogs, were just that and so lost the game in the traditional manner. Belton has won three games from Cameron in four years, each by a single touchdown.

Band Is Feature

The battle was fairly even in the first half. Cameron's crack maroon band under Frances Cox soothed over the lack of a football team and gave the Cameron fans a thrill of pride at the half, giving the best performance of the year.

Biggest Rattler!

From Ad Hall comes the story of the killing of a rattlesnake with 24 rattles, said to be the largest ever seen in this section. It was killed by James Barrett.

Politics Seen In Efforts to Organize Texas Old People

Efforts to organize the old people of Milam county were regarded here as a political move on the part of politicians who want to win public office in Texas.

Failure of the legislature to provide funds for pensions has brought about a state wide movement to organize the aged people.

C. S. Farmer of Fort Worth spoke in Cameron Sunday afternoon. He ridiculed Governor Allred and criticized the system under which aid is now being paid. Mr. Farmer may become a candidate for governor.

Story of Oil Told In Screen Version Opening at Cameron Theatre November 28

The stirring history of the discovery of oil and the development of the oil industry in America serves as a background for the strange romance of Irene Dunne and Randolph Scott in "High, Wide and Handsome," which opens November 28 at the Cameron Theatre. The love between Scott, a hard-bitten farmer of indomitable will, and Miss Dunne, a gay, light-hearted carnival singer, Scott meets Miss Dunne when she comes to Titusville with her show, and they fall in love without knowing it, during her stay in town. The knowledge that they are in love does not come to them until they attend a picturesque barn dance together, at which Charles Bickford, who plays a villainous teamster, kisses Miss Dunne and starts a fight with Scott.

Scott persuades Miss Dunne not to leave town with her show, and they are married in a colorful ceremony at Scott's Pennsylvania farm home. Just after their marriage, while they are on a hill where they plan to build their new home, oil gushes from Scott's oil derrick, the first one in the country. At once the city is plunged into turmoil, with farmers all over the section drilling on their property for oil.

Census Poll Begins

Every unemployed or partially unemployed person gains by registering during the National Unemployment Census to be taken November 16 in this and all other communities of the United States, according to the pamphlet, "General Information," issued by Administrator John D. Biggers, in charge of this process.

The pamphlet quotes the President's message on the face of the report cards, in which he said:

"If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it."

It also recalled that Congress directed the census to be taken "to aid in the formulation of a program for reemployment, social security and unemployed relief for the people of the United States."

Thus, while the unemployed are warned by the pamphlet that "registration on the report card is in no sense registration for a job," there is the implied intention of Congress to use the information obtained in this census, for development of constructive plan, aimed at improving the condition of the unemployed.

Santa Fe System Pleased With Cameron Special

A letter from L. V. Polk of the Santa Fe system to A. J. Triggs, president of the Cameron Athletic Council, says the special train run to Belton Friday night was the largest of the season.

More than 800 tickets were sold. Mr. Polk in making a report to the general superintendent complimented Cameron's crowd for its orderly conduct. Mr. Polk said the special was a success in every detail.

JIM FERGUSON

GOD FORBID

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only)

My dear folks this is one time I hope you will listen to what I say. I urge the farmers of this nation to be aroused and alarmed over this proposition to turn over to Federal Government the full and complete control of the planting, production and sale of crops in this nation. It is the most far reaching attempt to take away the liberty of the people ever proposed in this country. I hope the President whose programs and policies I have always supported will not urge Congress, soon to meet, to pass this legislation

The farmer politicians want this law passed because it will lead to the biggest set up of political jobs and bureaus that ever afflicted any people in any age or clime. I hope some member of the Texas delegation in Congress will give battle to the crowd that is trying to foist this curse on an unsuspecting people. I think I know what the farmer generally wants, and I have talked to scores of them in the last few weeks and I have yet to find one dirt farmer who actually tills the soil who wants to turn himself over to the government direction and control in the pursuance of his occupation of a farmer.

What the real farmer wants is to be let alone in those things that involve his freedom of thought and liberty of action.

There is no difference in principle whatever between the soviet government of Russia, which rules the farmers with an iron hand, and where every day people are being executed and killed by government agents because they may object to the government's plan of farming, and the proposition to turn the planting, cultivation and final sale of crops in free America, to a government agency. God forbid that such power shall ever be given to any government agency.

If this law is passed, one of two things must and will happen. If the plan to control surplus production succeeds, then the people will be regimented like they are now in Russia, and we will again see thousands of poor but honest people driven to the fields like the slaves of the South, and whatever profits are made out of the operation of crop control will be used to pay the hordes of government agents that will swarm over this nation like the locust swarmed in clouds in the olden time of the prophets, sapping their substance and blighting their lives.

On the other hand if the plan does not succeed, (and it won't,) then like the 5 year farm plan in Russia, it will be the excuse for the expenditure of more billions of government funds and credit which will bankrupt the government and the people as well.

I had rather see the price of cotton go to 5 cents forever than to see our people surrender their liberty.

I wonder if this crowd of crop control statesmen ever thought that when the farmer gives to the government the right to tell him how to plow, then the next thing the government will want to tell him is how to pray. If the government is to be given the power to tell the farmer when to plant then demand will be made for power to tell him what to plant and so on until his last vestige of a free man will be gone forever.

My friends, we face a serious situation. Write, wire and raise the devil with your Congressman until you get him right.

In his daily column O. O. McIntyre recalls that the famous tune popularly known as the "Hootchie Kootchie," which was first used as an accompaniment for "Oriental" dancers during the Chicago world's fair in 1893, was composed by Sol Bloom, now Congressman from New York. Bloom was for many years one of the leading composers and music publishers in Tin Pan Alley.

When Mrs. Anntal Krammer, 48, a peasant woman living near Budapest, with 2 children won the prize offered by the Hungarian government as the country's champion mother, news of her victory was published far and wide. The prize, however, was only 100 pengoes, the equivalent of about $1 for each child, and Mrs. Krammer doesn't think it was worth all the trouble.

Dolores Del Rio Retruns to Cameron In "Lancer Spy" Thursdáy and Friday

Possessing an independent spirit and determination that make an intriguing blend with her orchodaceous beauty, Dolores Del Rio voluntarily stayed off the screen for some months rather than continue playing roles that did not appeal to her. Her dark Latin beauty "typed" her in the minds of producers and she objected.

Despite many offers to appear in roles she disliked, Miss Del Rio stuck to her guns, and her belief that she should play in more significant drama is now amply justified in her latest film, Twentieth Century-Fox's "Lancer Spy," currently at the Cameron Thursday and Friday, November 18 and 19, in which she is featured with George Sanders and Peter Lorre.

In the role of a German espionage agent, Miss Del Rio is ordered to investigate George Sanders, British operative who has come to Berlin in a daring impersonation of a German officer of the imperial high command. Without a shred of evidence and only his jealousy to support his suspicions, her superior officer orders his exotic lieutenant to "stay with him, make love to him, marry him if necessary; but find out if he is the British agent I think he is!"

The outcome of this exploit means the firing squad for one of these two, and, if Sanders lives, he can strike the deadliest blow of the entire war. Miss Del Rio could not have asked for a more dramatic role.

Dancing is the art that interests the lovely Latin next to acting. She has few beauty secrets; soap and water and constant sun-bathing are responsible for much of the Del Rio loveliness. She has no patience with diets and eats everything except turnips. She drinks a great deal of milk.

Born in Mexico, of socially prominent parents Miss Del Rio led a sophisticated life traveling much and meeting many prominent people until she was "discovered" by a Hollywood director on vacation. From that time she has had a brilliant screen career, starting with her most famous role as "Charmaine" in "What Price Glory?"

"Lancer Spy," her latest picture was directed by Gregory Ratoff, who makes his debut behind the camera with the film. Phillip Dunne wrote the screen play for the Darryl F. Zanuck production.

A Plow With Sense and Backbone

This new Oliver Overhead Beam One-Way Disc Plow has Sense because the power lift and new power return lifts the plow out of the ground and returns it to work in a more practical way than on any plow ever built before. Secondly, it has backbone because the square 2 3/4" x 2 3/4" superior steel overhead beam provides a central pillar of strength and makes the power lift and power return possible. That overhead beam—with the beam above the discs—also gives far greater clearance for the handling of weeds and trash by the discs.

When knocked to the ground by a bull and in imminent danger of being gored to death, Adam Small of Marathon, Wis., saved his life by scratching the enraged animal's head, he says. The bull liked the scratching and stood still to enjoy the sensation for several minutes, then walked leisurely away. Whether this method would work in all cases is problematical, but it might be worth trying in a similar emergency.

Yoemen

had to punt. Hughes lifted the oval down the field and Belton received on her own 25 yard line. A run back gained 15 more, then McQueen and Blackburn collaborated in a drive around their own right end and through tackle marched the ball down field. It was late in the third quarter and it looked as though the game might be a tie. From the two yard line Blackburn carried over but the Tigers failed to kick goal.

Punts not Blocked

Hughes and Chandler alternated at punting with Kennon getting off one or two. No punts were blocked. In the second quarter fans were electrified once when Chandler took a 25 yard pass from Kennon, but the play fizzled out when the Maroon weaklings battered themselves to pieces against the Tiger line. The Yoemen's passing game was never a serious threat. Belton failed to complete a single pass in the game and had to resort to straight line play and sweeping end runs.

Belton made seven first downs and Cameron five. A wet ball kept passing down to a minimum. It was a ball game of line play and the advantage was with the Tigers.

Poor Arrangement

Fans were standing on the side lines long before the special train reached Belton. There was hardly half the number of seats required and more than 800 people from Cameron stood on the sidelines. The game called at 8 p. m. was under way before the last of the train riders got in the park. The train schedule was set too close to the kickoff and there was a loss in Temple picking up cars for the overcrowded train. In all 820 tickets were sold. As usual the number of people was greater than the number of seats. Twelve cars were brought down for the crowd. Sixteen cars may have accommodated the crowd.

No Seats for Band

Cameron's band stood on the side lines. Poorly arranged in every way the game did nothing to improve relations. Officials said the band was to have had a special section, but due to carelessness the spectators overran the stands and took every seat in sight.

The Pep Squad, orphan of the system, stood on the side lines. Few of them were able to see the game.

No field in the district can seat the people who go to football games. The big problem now is bigger and better stadiums.

Census

through the 14 questions on the card shows that when the census has been completed, Congress and the Government will have data it has not had in the past in dealing with unemployment, as there has been no general census since 1930.

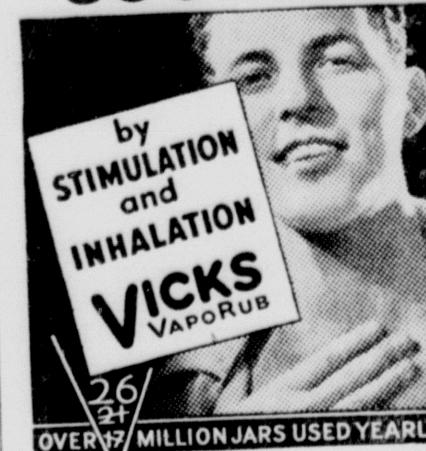

Information will now be available showing the age groups in which the employable unemployed or partially unemployed are found. The answers obtained from the cards will show in what trades there is the most enforced idleness, and the parts of the country in which unemployment most prevails.

The authorities will have data to show which industries are lagging in reemployment, and thus will know which industries would contribute the most new jobs by their revival. The cards will reveal what new industries are needed to augment available work in all parts of the country.

Therefore the census will supply statistics of vital importance to every community, not only to the unemployed, but to every element of the population.

Panthers May Claw Little Yoemen in Conference Final

There was nothing certain about Cameron being able to retain second place in the Conference as Coach Wood prepared to go up against the claws of Rosebud's Black Panthers Friday night.

Just what effect the loss to Belton may have on the team remains to be seen. Rosebud lost heavily to Belton and only made four first downs. Rosebud has been priming for Cameron now for weeks. It is going to be a battle and Rosebud may win.

Cameron's team went much farther along the trail this year than was expected. The season is complete except the Rosebud game. The Yoemen lost to Belton and got away with a lucky tie at Georgetown.

Rosebud is prepared to shoot the works Friday night. The team has had a bad season but feels it has a chance to knock off the old rivals from the Friendly City.

The money is to be allotted in the 1938 expenditures. If congress does not curtail allotments to the state, this road can be completed.

Beery and Gable Team In Air Film At Milam Sunday

Naval aviators represent the highest type of trained stunt flyers in the world, in the opinion of Wallace Beery, who is co-starred with Clark Gable in "Hell Divers," opening at the Milam Theatre Sunday and Monday, November 21 and 22.

In the thrilling Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama of the air, Beery, himself a full licensed transport pilot, flew practically every type of ship and was present at every evolution in the great fleet maneuvers.

"These fellows do power dives, hurling themselves downward, two miles in less than half a minute," says Beery. "They fly in formations, almost wing to wing, and loop, wheel, dive, and peel off, with the certainty of a precision instrument."

"The remarkable thing is the youth of these flyers. They seem mere boys. But any one of them has a coolness, a presence of mind, a flying sense that I think no civilian aviator, no matter how experienced, ever achieves. I speak from experience—I have flown quite a while. I have always urged private pilots never to stunt, for the good of aviation. I will urge this, but to see how safely these navy men stunt was, nevertheless, a revelation to me."

Beery vs. Gable

In "Hell Divers," Beery plays a veteran aviator "C. P. O." who is in constant fear of being displaced by Gable, a representative of the newer and more advanced school of flying.

A huge supporting cast includes Conrad Nagel, Dorothy Jordan, Marjorie Rambeau, Marie Prevost, Cliff Edwards, John Miljan, Landers Stevens, Reed Howes and Alan Rosco. Apart from the gigantic naval air thrills, filmed and recorded with government co-operation, a poignant story of love, heroism and sacrifice, George Hill of "Big House" fame directed.

In an article giving safety advice to motorists, Ab Jenkins, holder of 14 international speed and endurance records says: "Above all keep both hands on the wheel. The only two people I know who are competent to drive one-handed are Eddie Rickenbacker and Ralph de Palma—and both of them use two hands."

YOEMEN PREPARE FOR GAME WITH ROSEBUD

By C. M. HICKS

The Cameron Yoemen are preparing for their last conference game when they meet the Rosebud Black Panthers in Rosebud Friday night. The Yoemen are disappointed at the result of the Belton game but are determined not to let down Friday night as they intend to maintain their standing of second place in the district.

For the last few years the Rosebud game has been an outstanding one on the Yoemen schedule, and although this year it seems to be an anticlimax to the Belton game, it should lose none of its glamour. Nothing would give Coach Wade and his Black Panthers more pleasure than to upset the Yoemen. The followers of the Yoemen are liable to be overconfident and not to take the Rosebud team seriously as they have looked weak against Taylor and Belton. However, the Black Panthers never quit fighting and if they can find a weakness in the Yoemen they will take full advantage of it.

The Yoemen end the season at home on Wednesday night before Thanksgiving when they meet the Hearne Eagles, who have already won their district championship. If the Yoemen can win these last two games they can call it a very successful season, and one of which they should feel very proud.

Story of Oil

more and more oblivious of her, more absorbed in the growth of the new industry he has discovered. Soon his activities make him the leader of the oil section. All the farmers who have suddenly become oil producers look to him for leadership, and eventually he finds it almost impossible to spend any time at home. He is inarticulate, incapable of making his wife understand his duty to his friends, or his interest in the oil that can be afforded by rich and poor alike.

When the railroads begin boosting freight rates in order to freeze out the farmers and control the oil business themselves, Scott is so absorbed in his problems that he apparently forgets the existence of Miss Dunne, who is terribly hurt by his apparent indifference. He finally decides to beat the railroads prices by building a pipe line clear to the refineries, and plunges into the new task with all his energies.

It is then that Miss Dunne realizes that the love to which she has dedicated her life is a cold thing. Her husband refuses to share his interests with her, she feels useless to him, and in a supreme effort to recapture his love and gaiety she runs off to sing in a carnival once more.

But, when danger threatens Scott, she realizes that her love for her husband is more important than anything else life can give her and she returns to fight for him and with him.

Miss Dunne and Randolph Scott are supported by a fine cast, including Raymond Walburn, William Frawley, Elizabeth Patterson and Charles Bickford.

Take Cardui for functional pains of menstruation. Thousands of women testify it has helped them. If Cardui doesn't relieve your monthly discomfort, consult a physician. Don't just go on suffering and put off treatment to prevent the trouble.

Besides easing certain pains, Cardui aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

duplicate those of the Austrian Tyrol in Molnar's original.

You know at once that the movies do better with the Sierras than any stage technician could possibly hope to do with canvas scenery. It is exquisite photography and the sound effects are astonishingly lovely, with the music of mountain birds at dawn, the rollicking song of a tumbling stream and the symphony of wind in the trees.

But aside from the technical charm of this picture, there is the superb acting of the cast, which includes lovely Lynne Carver, Reginald Owen, Billie Burke, George Zucco and Dickie Moore.

Deeply human in theme, yet replete with amusing comedy situations and characters, "The Bride Wore Red" is the intensely dramatic story of a waterfront cabaret singer and dancer who suddenly becomes a Cinderella. As Anni, the vivacious waterfront waif around whom the story is woven, Miss Crawford culminates three years of voice study by singing on the screen for the first time. She also dances the tango.

Like all of Molnar's characters, the people are down-to-earth and real. The swift-moving action takes place during four weeks. In those weeks, through the whim of a philosophical nobleman, Anni is sent to fashionable mountain resort where she becomes a social belle. Forced to choose between the humble Giulio, played by Tone, and the wealthy Rudi portrayed by Young, Anni faces a problem that determines the future course of her life. Anni's decision and her constant fear of discovery make for romance, suspense and humor.

tree, and a Christmas party, the exact date of which is to be announced. The liberality of the Council assures the success of the proposed annual entertainment.

The tree is to be built on the Court house lawn. Texas Power & Light Company through F. E. Woodruff, manager, will lend a pole. The tree will be 16 feet high. Branches of cedar will be used to build the tree in symmetrical design. Clark Kelly of the Kelley Nursery will be asked to superintend the construction of this tree.

Some 500 electric colored lamps, will be used to light the tree. A star in electric effect will adorn the top. The tree will be lighted on December 10th.

A program will be given during Christmas week.

Santa Claus will distribute Xmas bags to children at this program. Community singing and music by the Cameron band with a speaker are among the features being arranged by the Committee, said Mr. Camp.

Age restrictions for the bags will be voted by the committee soon. Also it was announced that full details of the program will soon be available.

Fraternal organizations of the city are co-operating in financing the tree.

commander, who then introduced Judge W. G. Gillis as the memorial speaker. The colors were then retired and the services were dismissed.

All ex-service men then went to the Ada Henderson school where they were served a delicious dinner consisting of turkey and the fixings. During the meal each Legion Post of the county gave a ten minute skit of entertainment. The Sons of the American Legion of Rockdale sang war time songs and were joined by the audience (between bites.) Miss S. G. Butts of Thorndale also played war time songs. The Milano Post presented a Hillbilly Orchestra.

Greetings from Gen. Martin, Governor of Oregon were brought to the members of the war time 90th division by Jim Baskin who had recently returned from the 90th division reunion held in Tulsa, Okla. Mr. Baskin then introduced the speaker of the day, Dr. Frederick M. Brooke of Waco.

After the dinner the crowd joined in with the performers of the Rodeo and paraded to the Rodeo grounds where a very large crowd enjoyed a very interesting and entertaining show. This performance was repeated at 7:30 in the evening and afterwards the crowd finished out the day with a dance at the National Hall.

This was without a doubt the biggest Armistice Day celebration ever held in Cameron and was enjoyed by all who attended any of the program during the day. The Legion posts of Milam county hope that they will always be able to bring to their buddies and friends a good celebration each year to come. In order to do this they are extending an invitation to each ex-service man of the county to join one of the Legion Posts of the county.

FARM CLUB NEWS

"Salads were considered a luxury, and served only on special occasions, in grandmothers day. Now we consider them a daily necessity, an essential of the adequate diet. In order that we may grow and be healthy," is what Mrs. Adolf Hanel said at the Ad Hall HD Club meeting at Mrs. Will Anderle's Friday, November 12, where Mrs. Hanel gave a demonstration on "chicken in Salads." The following salad was made and served.

Chicken Salad

2 c cold chicken (cut in cubes.)
1 1-2 c. celery (cut in pieces.)
1 small bottle olives.
1 teaspoon salt.
Mayonaise, or boiled dressing.
Combine chicken and celery and add celery salt. Cut up eggs, reserving three or four slices for garnishing. Mix all ingredients and add salad dressing. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Cooked Dressing

1 1-2 teaspoon butter (melted.)
1 1-2 teaspoon flour.
1 1-2 teaspoon sugar.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon mustard.
Few grains cayenne.
3-4 cup milk.
1-4 cup vinegar.
2 egg yolks.
Mix dry ingredients, add egg yolks, slightly beaten, melted butter and milk. Then very slowly add the vinegar. Cook in top of double boiler until mixture thickens. Cool. Note: Straining the dressing makes it finer grained.

Other receipts were also passed around.
During the business part of the meeting the members voted on having a community party Nov. 26th.

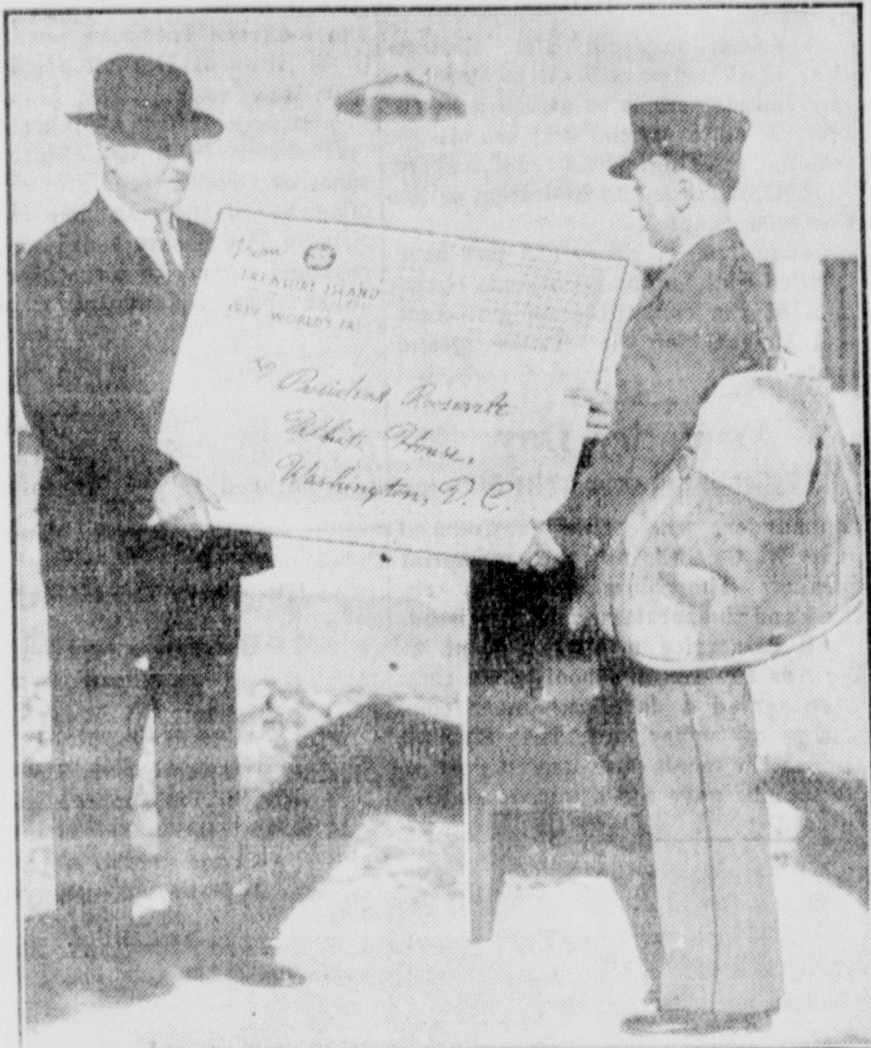

The next club meeting will be with Mrs. Alver Gravender, Nov. 22, at 2 p. m. The Agent, Miss Porter will give a demonstration on: "Intelligent Care of Fabrics." All visitors are welcome. ### CARD OF THANKS

We are grateful to friends and neighbors, and the American Legion, for their kindness to us during the recent illness and at the death of our beloved son and brother, Harmon Thweatt. ## MAIL FROM TREASURE ISLE

Postmaster General James A. Farley (left) mails the first letter from Treasure Island, San Francisco Bay site of the 1939 World's Fair to President Roosevelt. It was so large it would not fit the mail box, and Letter Carrier Jack Sullivan is shown here taking the giant letter from his chief.

Stark Drama In Film at Cameron Theatre Tuesday

Eleanore Whitney and Johnny Downs, the screen's most appealing pair of young sweethearts, hit the bell again for another film triumph in their new comedy, "Blonde Trouble," which opens at the Cameron Theatre, Thursday and Friday, November 23 and 24, with Terry Walker, Lynne Overman and William Demarest heading the fine supporting cast.

"Blonde Trouble" is the hilarious tale of a young song-writer about to be "taken" by a gold-digger who imagines he has plenty of money and a rosy future. The gold-digger, Terry Walker, turns the boy, played by Johnny Downs, away from his sweetheart, Eleanore Whitney, and determines to marry him herself.

Downs falls for Miss Walker's plan. He quarrels with Miss Whitney, and "breaks off" with her. Miss Walker submits Downs' new song to her song-publisher ex-boy-friend, played by Lynne Overman, and he, figuring that if she marries Downs he'll be rid of her, encourages the pair in the belief that Johnny is going to be a big success.

Just before the wedding is to take place, Miss Walker learns that Overman will not publish Downs' song. Realizing that Downs is a failure, she walks out on him, leaving him high and dry, and afraid to go back to Miss Whitney, whom he now realizes that he loves.

With Downs at his lowest point, a famous singer accidentally drops in to Overman's office, sees the song, and likes it. She sings it on the air, and it is an immediate success. Johnny is once more on his feet—he is deluged with movie contracts—and, best of all, he proudly displays, on the third finger of Miss Whitney's hand, a brand-new wedding ring which he has placed there.

"Blonde Trouble" was directed by George Archainbaud.

TEXANS LET'S

We have a
TWENTY-FIFTH BIRTHDAY...

IT is our Birthday... our Twenty-fifth... our Silver Anniversary. We mention it, not that we expect acclaim for having survived during these twenty-five eventful years, nor for having served well for that time; but we mark the day because this past quarter-century has been filled with great achievements in Texas, and by Texans.

It is our conviction that we have contributed something worth while, something lasting and beneficial to the people for and with whom we work. Dependable Transmission Line Electric Power, pioneered in Texas by this Company in 1912, has extended the limits of Texas' opportunities... has given wings to achievement... has brought the comforts, conveniences and economies of its service to hundreds of communities and to thousands of homes which, otherwise, would long have been denied these advantages.

Transmission Line Power Service has been... and is now... a very real boon to industrial development, meeting the needs of smaller cities and towns served by this Company. This form of adequate, dependable power service... at low cost... and usable at such low investment cost... has made it possible for the smaller community to enjoy a more balanced income.

So, on the occasion of our Twenty-fifth Birthday, we refer to the evidence of yesterday's progress, and we pledge all of our resources to serving those who look singly to us for Electric Service... the cheapest and most useful public service.

And, it is fitting that we express our appreciation for thousands upon thousands of fine friendships which have arisen around us during this quarter-century. It is our single aim to merit and hold and enlarge those friendships through the years to come... by rendering a service in simple trust and faith.

To make your brooder house is better than to buy one was the information given by the Assistant Home

Demonstrator, Edith McCall on Wednesday Nov. 3, at 9 a. m.

When you make your brooder more room in it, and when you buy it, it cost more.

The president was late and the vice president took charge of the meeting until she came.

Those present were: Edith Fuller,
